Abstract
The 2010 Australian Candidate Study is the ninth in a series of election studies on federal election candidates. In 2010, candidates from the following parties were surveyed - Australian Labor Party, Liberal Party of Australia, National Party of Australia, and Australian Greens. The study examined the prominent election issues, including attitudes to particular economic issues, social issues and opinions on the most critical problems facing Australia. Opinions on other political issues such as international security relations, assistance for Aborigines and women, and social issues such as abortion and pornography were also sought. Demography and representation are examined through questions on the Australian democratic system, voting ages, voting methods, the role of the Monarchy and referendums. In addition, the political background of candidates was investigated, including electoral history, party political involvement and membership of community organisations. The study includes campaign information such as the amount of time candidates spent on campaign activities and the amount of support received from various sources. Background variables include age, country of birth, age when left school, number of years of tertiary study, religion, frequency of attending religious services, marital status, House contested and party affiliated with. Some of these variables have been grouped to ensure confidentiality of the candidates.

Sampling

Sampling Procedure

No sampling (All candidates of the three major political parties - Australian Labor Party, Australian Greens and the Liberal-National Party - were selected for the Candidates Study. To send the survey booklets, the postal addresses for many candidates were sourced from the public domain, mostly from the Internet.)

Response Rate

Of a total mailing of 543, there were 247 completed returns, giving a response rate of 45%. The adjusted response rate of 48.9% was calculated via the removal of Out of Scope sample population of 38 observations (deceased, incapable, and return to sender)

Data Collection

Data Collection Dates	1: start 2010-09-03 1: end 2010-10-07
Time Period(s)	start 2010-09-03 end 2010-10-07
Data Collection Mode	self-completion (mail out - mail back)

Questionnaires

structured

Supervision

The original mail-out was on the 03 September 2010. A thank you/ reminder postcard was sent to all selected members after the original mail-out (10 September 2010). A third reminder questionnaire (with amended cover letter) was sent to non-respondents (07 October 2010).

The survey booklets were scanned using a double key and verify workflow, and field restrictions to enhance accuracy.

Data Processing & Appraisal

Data Editing

The data was checked for out of range codes and that the skip patterns were followed. Cleaning and coding rules developed during the Voter's component of the study in consultation with the Principal Investigator were applied to the Candidate Study. These rules included interpretation of multiple responses for single response questions.
